

Activity 5:

So, what's a Peer Tutor?

Aim: → To explain the role further

Resources: None

Time: 10 minutes

Instructions:

An open discussion, which may link back to the 'expectations, worries, fears' activity from earlier.

Begin by explaining the terminology; what 'Peer' and 'Tutor' mean. Then ask the questions.

This would be an ideal opportunity to do some personal goal setting which could link to accreditation of their learning on the course.

Learning to be drawn from this activity:

- ✓ It is important to begin by looking at our own experience and our own learning.
- ✓ Being a Peer Tutor is about helping others and we also need to look at things from their point of view.